Fr Timothy Radcliffe OP is a Dominican friar of the English Province. He entered the Dominican Order in 1965 and was ordained a priest in 1971. During the mid-1970s Fr Timothy was based at the West London Catholic Chaplaincy at More House, London. Fr Timothy taught Holy Scripture at Oxford University at Blackfriars, and was elected provincial of England in 1988. In 1992 he was elected Master of the Dominican Order and held that office until 2001. During his tenure as Master, he was ex officio Grand Chancellor of the Pontifical University of Saint Thomas Aquinas, Angelicum in Rome.

Fr Timothy is Patron of the International Young Leaders Network and helped launch Las Casas Institute, dealing with issues of ethics, governance and social justice. These are both projects of Blackfriars, Oxford.

He was the 2007 winner of the The Michael Ramsey Prize for theological writing, for his book What Is the Point of Being A Christian?

Fr Timothy Radcliffe is a highly sought after speaker, teaching and preaching in many countries.
